Animal-inspired tableware and home textiles for joyful living.

ZOOH

About ZOOH × dasBrooklyn

ZOOH and dasBrooklyn are designed brands based in Asturias, northern Spain, brought together by a shared love of nature, original artwork and thoughtfully designed everyday living.

Founded in 2018 by Alicia Wood and artist Henry Iles, ZOOH creates contemporary homeware inspired by the beauty, humour and character of the animal world. Drawing inspiration from wildlife, nature and the places that inspire us, the brand celebrates colour, craftsmanship and the belief that art should be part of everyday life.

dasBrooklyn is the brand of artist Anja Riebenschahm, whose expressive illustrations celebrate wildlife, folklore and the natural world. Her painterly style combines contemporary design with a love of storytelling, creating timeless pieces that feel both elegant and playful.

For Modern Menagerie, ZOOH and dasBrooklyn collaborated to create a collection of animal-inspired tableware and home textiles that brings together Henry Iles' and Anja Riebenschahm's distinctive artistic styles. The collection reflects a shared appreciation for nature, colour and the joy of original artwork in everyday spaces.

Living and working in Asturias, Alicia, Henry and Anja are inspired by the region's dramatic coastline, mountains, forests and deep connection to the natural world. Their creative influences also extend beyond the region, shaped by travel, observation and a shared fascination with the diversity and character of animals across the globe.

Created to celebrate gathering rather than formality, Modern Menagerie brings original artwork to the table, encouraging colourful, relaxed spaces where people can slow down, share good food and enjoy time together.

Modern Menagerie

Animal-inspired tableware and home textiles for joyful living.

We believe the table is the heart of the home. It is where everyday meals become lingering conversations, friends feel welcome and simple moments become memorable. Dressing the table should not feel formal or reserved for special occasions – it should be an expression of personality, warmth and the pleasure of gathering together.

Modern Menagerie was created to bring original art beyond the walls and into everyday living. A collaboration between ZOOH and dasBrooklyn, the collection celebrates the beauty, humour and character of the natural world through expressive illustrations and contemporary design.

From playful monkeys, elegant dragonflies and shimmering sardines to curious cats, foxes, hedgehogs, European songbirds, guinea fowl, butterflies and kiwi, each design tells its own story. Together they create a colourful menagerie that invites people to mix, layer and live with art every day.

Designed for contemporary homes, the collection encourages a relaxed approach to entertaining – beautiful but never precious, thoughtfully curated but never over-styled. These are textiles and tableware made to be used, shared and enjoyed, bringing colour, creativity and conversation to every table.

Dragonfly

A celebration of colour, movement and long summer days, the Dragonfly collection brings vibrant energy to the table. Inspired by one of nature's most graceful insects, Henry Iles' original artwork captures the delicate beauty of dragonflies in bold, expressive compositions that feel both contemporary and timeless.

At the heart of the collection is the signature patchwork tablecloth, where three striking colourways come together to create a dramatic centrepiece. Designed to transform the table with effortless impact, it sets the tone for a range that is playful, artistic and unmistakably modern.

Available across tablecloths, runners, placemats, coasters, tea towels, napkins and cushions, Dragonfly is designed to be mixed, layered and enjoyed every day. Whether indoors or outside, it creates tables that feel welcoming, relaxed and full of personality—beautiful without ever feeling formal.

Placemats & Coasters

For generations, rigid placemats and coasters have been a staple of British homes. We have reimagined this much-loved classic with original artwork from contemporary artists, creating practical pieces that are as decorative as they are functional.

Unlike fabric placemats, rigid mats stay perfectly flat, are easy to wipe clean and, with normal care, will last for many years. They are ideal for protecting dining tables while adding colour, personality and artistry to everyday meals.

Placemats & Coasters

Contemporary designs, a timeless
British tradition.

Traditionally made from wood, our placemats and coasters are produced using sustainable MDF with a natural cork backing, making them a more affordable and environmentally conscious choice without compromising on quality.

Their vibrant designs make them exceptionally easy to merchandise. Whether displayed on a tabletop, featured in a window display or used in cafés, hotels and restaurants, they immediately catch the eye. They are also a favourite with families, bringing colour to children's mealtimes while protecting the table. For those who don't use a tablecloth every day, they offer a simple way to transform a table setting in seconds.
